INTEREST in Cymbidium orchids continues to grow. Here in Southern California they are ideal subjects for outdoor culture and during the early spring there is no better subject for adding color to the garden. In other parts of the country where protection from frost is required, they are equally rewarding when they can be given cool indoor conditions during the cold season. The flowers last from four to six weeks on the plant — a return out of all proportion to the small amount of work involved; and a glance at the brief descriptions further on in this book will give an idea of the wide color range.

We have Cymbidium plants to suit the needs of every type of Cymbidium grower from the beginner with absolutely no growing experience to the collector of long standing and it is our pleasure to give all the cultural help we possibly can where this is desired.

For convenience we have divided the list into three sections. The "Garden Variety" section offers well established plants in pots which will give charming flowers this coming season without great outlay in either money or effort. This is the section we especially recommend for a start in Cymbidium growing.

The items in the two sections which follow are propagations of fine cut flower varieties up to the best exhibition types. They are briefly described and in all cases we shall be pleased to furnish any further information desired.

It is with pleasure we offer this Cymbidium List to our valued clientele of the past and to those of more recent interest in Cymbidiums whom we hope to add to our list of satisfied customers as time goes on.

DISCOUNTS

This list carries a 20% discount to dealers.

A discount of 10% is given on retail purchases over $100.00 in any twelve-month period.

TO OUR SHIPPING CUSTOMERS

Cymbidium plants ship well either in or out of flower. When not in flower they can either be shipped bare rooted, mossed and packed in a corrugated carton; or in clay pots, crated. Where the plants are in spike or bloom, they carry best potted and crated; and when they are shipped with well ripened flowers, the latter carry very successfully to long distances.

Crating is carefully handled and is charged at $2.50 per container, holding an average of four flowering-sized plants, in pot.

Crated shipments will be sent by Railway Express, collect, unless otherwise specified.

Bare-root shipments are packed in corrugated boxes and these are sent by parcel post, f.o.b. Ojai, packing at cost.

GARDEN VARIETIES

We have a fine healthy stock of these reasonably priced plants, many of them with flower spikes. It is impractical to list the varieties as they are mostly one or two each of a great number of English hybrids. The colors range from pinks to rose, yellow through brown and varying shades of green. They are splendid subjects for the home gardener and the beginner and they range in price from $5.00 to $25.00 each.

The ideal way is to see and select the plants personally, if you can do this. If not, we believe from past good results that we can make a selection that will be completely satisfactory to you. If you will tell us the color you want and about the price range, we will either send the best plants we have available at the time you want them or submit details.

If you elect to use this method — and we recommend it with confidence — please be sure to read over our note to our shipping customers on page 4 and give us any special instructions you may wish to add.

"INTERMEDIATE" LIST

Each numbered plant on the following list is a propagation from an individually recorded variety. The description is accurate and for convenience we have bracketed the $5.00 to $10.00 price range together in this "intermediate" section. The figure given is for a healthy, well-rooted propagation with one mother bulb and one well developed new growth, approximately two years from flowering.

There are larger plants of many of these varieties on hand and we will supply details on request.

During the season many of the stock plants from which these propagations have been taken will be blooming at the ranch. We will be happy to show them to you.
